The latest motion by the Rock Island Clean Line is an example of bullying. By definition bully: quarrelsome person who browbeats, frightens, or hurts smaller or weaker people. Bullying: to threaten or intimidate into doing something.

The granting of the current motion by the Rock Island Clean Line would in effect give that company the right to bully the people of Iowa.

As a land owner and a person directly touched by this project I feel bullied. Our Schools, Government offices Churches, and dedicated families all work hard to prevent bullying and I would hope the Iowa Utilities Board is doing the same.

The Rock Island Clean line has demonstrated that they will use any means possible to get what they want. Please do not grant them any right to deal with honest people, and shut this proposed project down for good.
